It will leave no more Of the things to come than the things before. On February 6, 1729, the settlers In the back districts of Chester county, of the province of Pennsylvania, prayed the Council of the province for a division of the county and the formation of a new county. This was approved February 7, 1729. Action was promptly taken, the Council acquainted the Assembly, then in session, and the petition was approved by them and signed by the Governor, May 10, 1729. The first Courts of the new county were held at Postlethwaite s, near the Conestoga creek. The county seat was moved, May 1, 1730, to Lancaster Townstead, which had been surveyed by John Jones, for James Hamilton, in March, 1730. Brief of Title. On May 15, 1730, Andrew Hamilton and Ann, his wife, for the consideration of five shillings, conveyed two lots of land for the use of the county, viz.: One for the Court House site and the other for the County Prison site. At the same time they conveyed a lot, 120 feet square, for the site for a public market house in the newly laid out town. The Court House lot was 66 feet square and in the centre of the town; the Prison lot was on the north side of West King street, and extended from Prince to Water streets. The Prison lots were numbered 273 and 274 on the...
